Description

This Chinese-style brush is expertly crafted from a combination of wolf and mare hair, offering exceptional versatility for various brushstroke techniques. The plush, soft bristles facilitate the effortless application of glazes, particularly in those hard-to-reach, smaller areas. Moreover, this brush lends itself to artistic expression through freehand decoration, enabling you to achieve shading, texture, and precise dotting with ease.

Exceptional Material Absorption

Crafted from natural animal hair, this brush excels in absorbing and holding a substantial amount of material, resulting in highly effective brush strokes that bring your artistic vision to life.

Long and Elegant Handle

The brush features an elegantly long handle, providing potters and artists with the flexibility to grip it near the base for meticulous control or towards the end for a looser, more expressive touch.

Versatile Decorative Use

The Chinese-style brush offers remarkable versatility, suitable for a wide range of applications, from applying glazes broadly to executing intricate, small-scale decorations. Whether you're working on larger projects or fine details, this brush is your ideal companion.
